In addition, I implement a three step process that gets your home SOLD fast and at top dollar. This process is called The 3P's and has the three components listed below.

- Preparation – this is like trying to sell your used car, first you repair it, then wash and detail it so that you can get top dollar and the buyer gets a good running car. Another example would be Apple, Inc is about to release a new product but before they do they pay close attention to the packaging to insure attracting the most buyers in the market place.
- Pricing – our in-depth (SMA and CMA) analysis provides quantitative data that supports pricing of your home at the range the “Market will Bear”. This analysis is very critical in helping negotiate offers and in making sure appraisals do not become an issue for buyers during the qualification phase of their purchase of your home.

➤ Promotion - today's buyers are continually learning about new venues and technologies that will help them find their "dream" home at the best price in the shortest amount of time. Our commitment to stay at the edge of technology and the power of our team (+320 REALTORS) helps me to expose your home online to 3X more buyers than most all the local brokerage firms in Texas.
